DEDICATION

TO Mr. J. H. Super, who, as principal, has guided us wisely. The influence of his dignified yet understanding nature has been a strong factor in shaping our lives and will continue to be felt.

FOREWORD

O NCE upon a time—which is how every real tale of Mother Goose should start—a large number of boys and girls discovered a new world. It really was not as spectacular as it sounds; they merely outgrew childhood and entered Coughlin.

The school was not unlike the old "lady in the shoe" when it gathered them in, for it already had many, many children. At first, they were bewildered and strangely awed by the crowds; but these feelings soon left them, and they began to feel at home.

Passing days became years, and the years witnessed changes: the girls contrived fancy coiffures to take the place of pigtails; gradually, the male element bequeathed their "knickers" to younger brothers and appeared in long trousers. It was wonderful to be grown up!

Life in the "shoe" was very full and exciting. There were classes, club meetings, parties, entertainments and countless other activities to occupy the happy days which fled by.

The boys and girls were now quite matured—people called them Seniors in a reverent tone of voice—but in many of their activities, though probably unnoticed, there existed some little phase reminiscent of childhood and nursery rhymes. There were some "ten o'clock scholars" who arrived late for classes; a few gullible ones joined the Boots and Saddle Club to "ride a cock horse"; and as they twirled at school dances, the orchestra may have played "A-Tisket-A-Tasket" or some other "swing" classic taken from the pages of "Mother Goose Rhymes."

Four years have slipped away since these boys and girls first came to the "shoe" named Coughlin. Now they tumble out—and their high school adventure must become a composite group of happy memories to be treasured forever in the land of day-dreams. They take with them their Breidlins which, it is hoped, will preserve some of those memories in a tangible form.

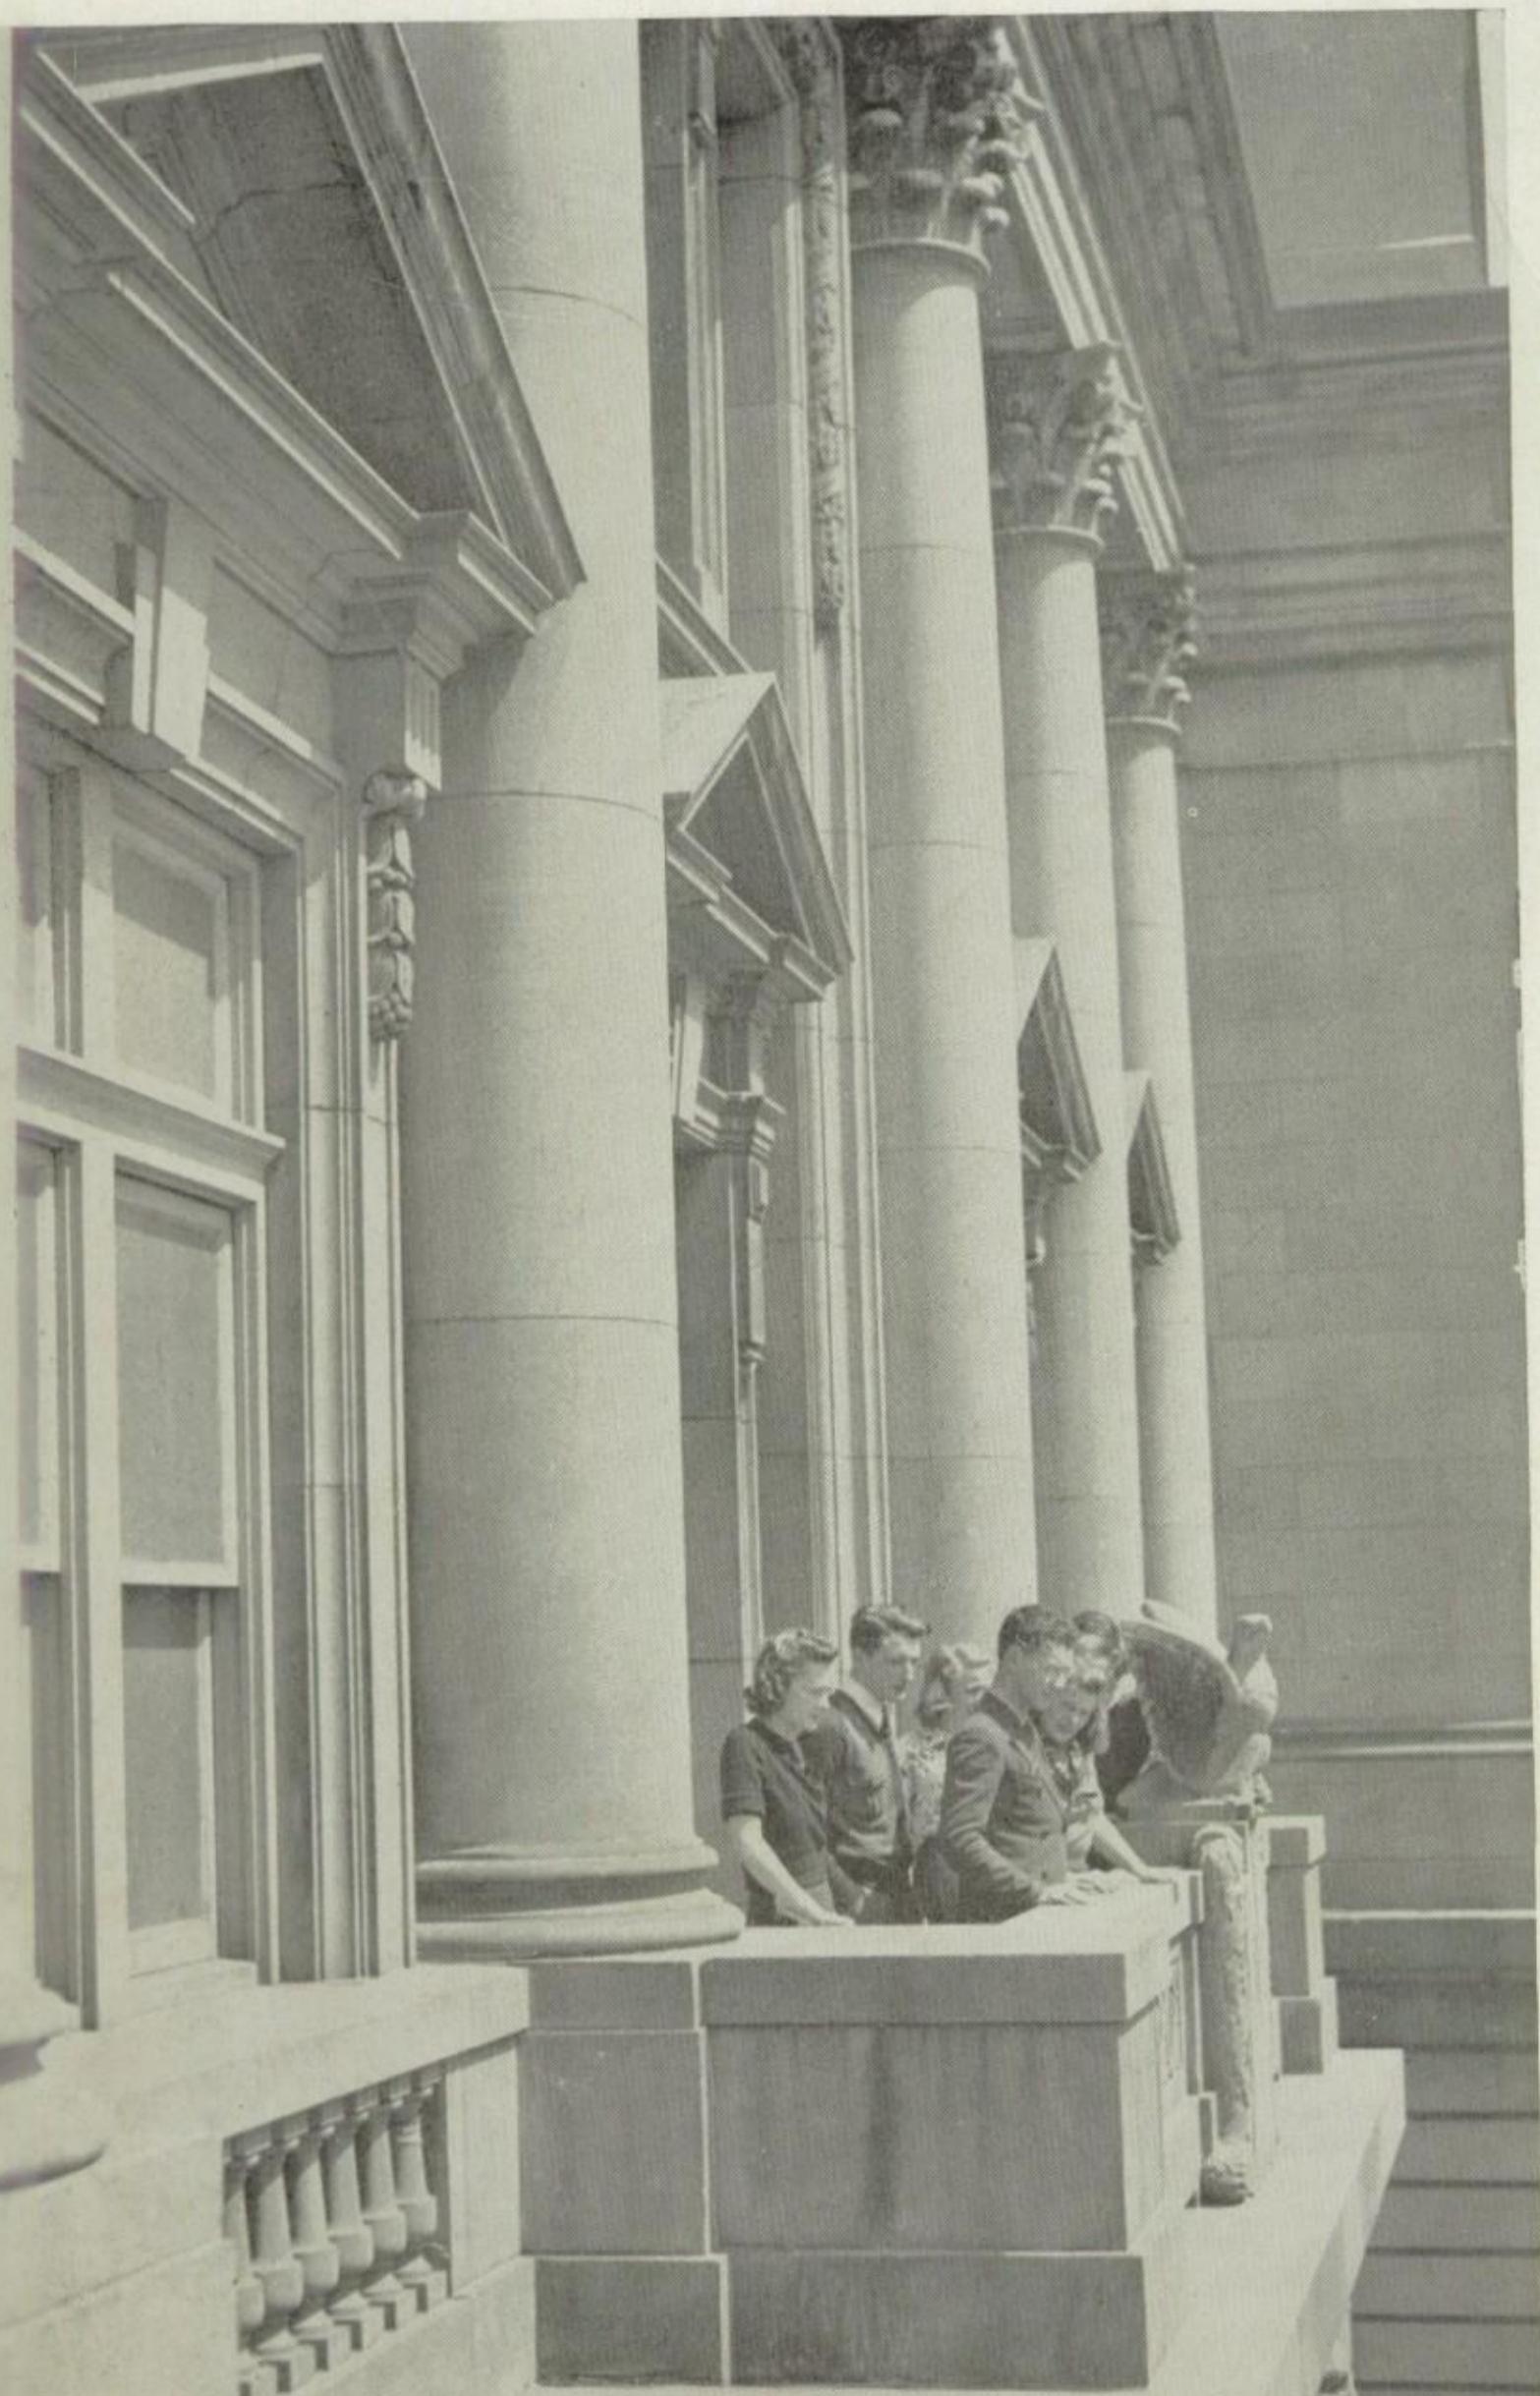

Because they have, unwittingly, been close to Mother Goose during their high school careers, the rhymes of that lovable lady have become the theme of their memory book.

COUGHLIN CLASSES

3:15!

ABOVE is the main entrance of "the shoe" as the crowds come pouring out. Seen on an ordinary day, the school seems to provide ample room. Nevertheless, the huge enrollment—more than 2500—is a problem. Since the rooms of Coughlin proper are filled, the surplus of the student body finds lodging in what is popularly called the "Old Building," and on two floors of the Union Street Grammar School. On the morning of the opening day of school, the three upper classes filled the auditorium. In the afternoon, the freshman class alone occupied a large portion of the first floor. Owing to this condition, the freshman class was divided into two parts and the halves alternate in attending chapel exercises. With these arrangements and the three buildings' space, the problem of distribution is solved.

ROBERT OLSON
Mantle Orator

How lightly passed our days within the walls,
The shortest, gladdest days of life.
A memory we have, whate'er befalls,
To carry through this world of strife.

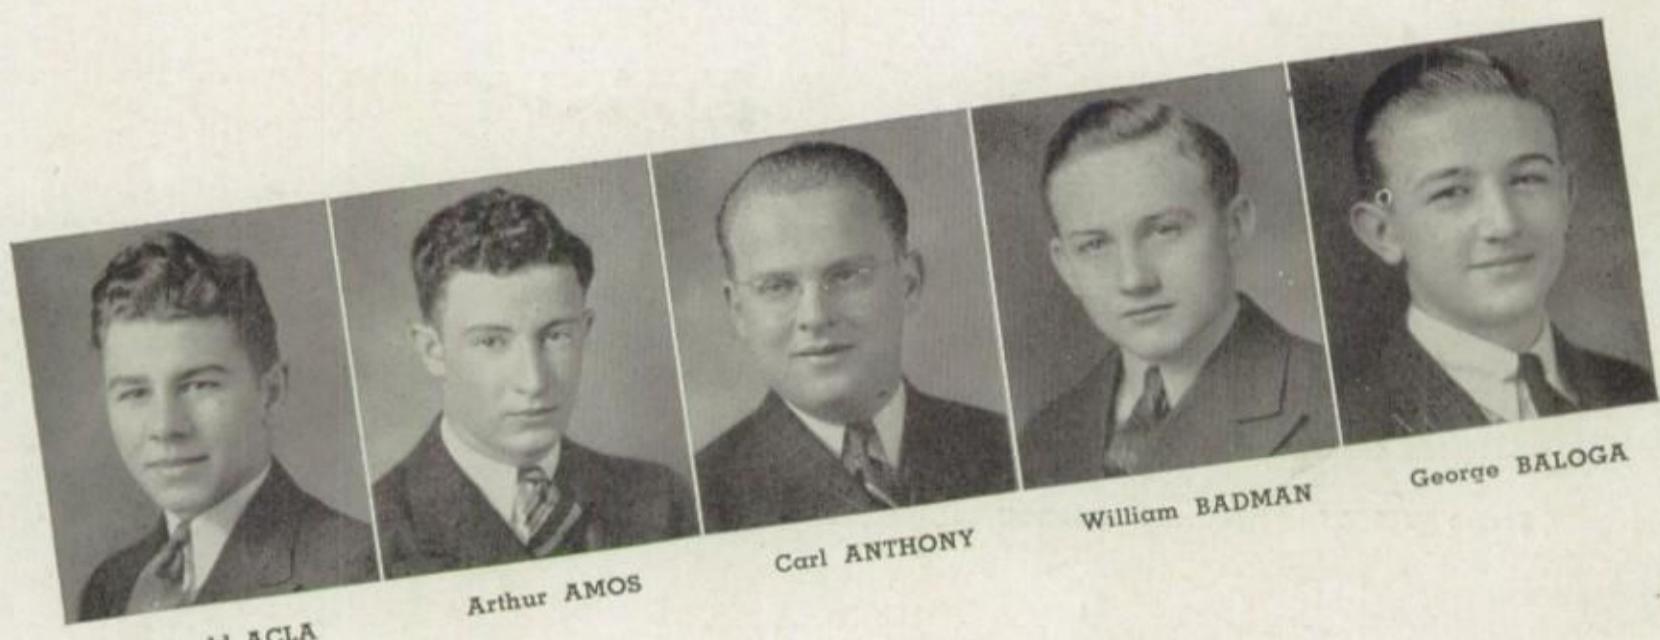

On stage, in classroom, and on field or floor,
Thy glory cannot be surpassed.
From grateful and from humble hearts,
we pour
Our homag[e], which will ever last.

CHORUS

Our school—the parting hour is near,
And we join throngs of others, too, who hold thee dear.
Coughlin—thy honor we'll uphold,
Grand old high school! With deep regret we leave thy fold.
How bright will seem through mem'ry's haze
The happy, bygone days!
Faithfully we'll e'er to thee be true,
Proudly praise thee our whole life through—our own dear school.

JUNIOR USHERS

A LL those who patronize Coughlin's plays, concerts, and other entertainments are familiar with those indispensable persons who escort them to their seats, the members of Junior Ushers. This society was formed with the two-fold purpose of supplying the school activities with ushers and at the same time giving due recognition to the meritorious students of the Junior Class. The duties of the ushers are self-evident. The eligibility to membership in this organization is determined primarily by the scholastic standing of pupils, which must be very high, and then by personality, character, and natural leadership. There were forty-six deserving members chosen this year.

SCHOOL LIFE

AND NO "SHINING MORNING FACES" EITHER!

THE gayer side of life in "the shoe" is portrayed in the following pages. In these days of "jitterbugs" and sweet swing, gaiety and dancing are almost synonymous, so Coughlin's social calendar was not without its terpsichorean affairs. On the opening day of school, the Senior Dance Committee met and made plans for the year. After practicing at the popular "dime dances," the fans of the school, in their best bibs and tuckers appeared at the gala evening sessions in perfect form. When they arrived, many were amazed at the change the combination gym and cafeteria had undergone in the few short hours since "fourth lunch." A miracle had been performed! This transformation was due to the hard-working members of the Senior Committee. To them and to Miss Ritchie and Mr. Connor must be given the credit for all the successful dances enjoyed during the year. This committee is composed of representatives from each senior roll-call.

SPEAKERS' CLUB

MAKING its initial bow in the Breidlin this year is the Speakers' Club, which is composed of seniors who have been outstanding in their work in the public speaking department. Under the capable direction of Mrs. Mollie Kent, the members of this club have frequently appeared before the school. In the days of the Journal and Breidlin campaigns, they were the ones who so ably convinced hundreds of their fellow-students of the merits of both publications. At their regular meetings, they have attempted various tongue twisters to test their articulation, made impromptu speeches, responded to question box assignments, and taken part in short debates. Members have gained through such experiences the confidence which they will need later in life when any form of public speaking is required of them. They have learned, too, how to present a subject so that it will interest and hold the attention of an audience. This understanding will, of course, benefit their business and professional careers as well since much of their future success will be dependent on their being able to express what they think in a way which will impress others. Next year when the present juniors will be eligible for the Speakers' Club, they will have much to live up to as this year's members are particularly able and poised. This newly-organized group has set a high standard not only for the Class of '40 but for all succeeding classes as well.

CLUB MEMBERS REST AT THE VALLEY DAM

TWICE a month on Monday afternoons the members of the Geography Club have jumped on their magic carpet and been whirled away to the lands which most people read about in books but do not dream of ever really seeing. They took these trips in the form of faculty travelogues by Mr. Zerbe, Mr. F. H. Super, Miss Zlata Tuhy and Miss Anne Dzury; and in quick quizzes, or with motion pictures. Several of the boys who say, "There's no place like home," constructed a topographic relief map of Wilkes-Barre, which when finished showed time and effort well-spent. The annual outing was held in May. Of course, several more interesting snap shots were added to that fascinating club scrapbook of theirs!

MARCHING WITH THE FOE

THE BAND

WHEN the band of today goes marching down the football field in their snappy red and blue uniforms, one can scarcely conceive that in 1915, when the band was organized, there were only fifteen players. Since then the membership has increased to sixty-five. At the rehearsals each Friday, Mr. Lewis has the boys try a little bit of everything. First they play a lively march, then a bit of swing, and, finally, some works of the older masters. They are always ready to serve. Certainly school life would lose much of its color and enthusiasm were it not for the band and its music.

VARSITY ORCHESTRA

FOUR years before Mr. Davies founded the band, he started the Varsity Orchestra. He continued to direct this group until 1932 when Mr. P. B. Lewis took charge. The members of the Varsity Orchestra are those who have graduated either from the Freshman and Reserve Orchestras or the Band. They are given try-outs and picked purely on musical ability. The duties of the orchestra include playing for chapel session, school entertainments, Class Day, Commencement, and any other special occasions which may occur. To keep abreast of the times the orchestra, like the band, learns the swing music of the day as well as the regular classical numbers. They, too, are always ready to serve any needs of their school willingly.

THE Reserve and Freshman Orchestras are also important units.

The Reserve Orchestra organized in 1915, serves as a link between the Freshman and Varsity Orchestras. In January of this year, the group played for the Teachers' Institute in the Coughlin Auditorium. In the latter part of May, they presented their annual program. This consisted of classics, modern marches and popular songs. The Freshman Orchestra was organized in 1923 to close the gap between the music of the grade schools and the work of the Reserve Orchestra which did not include freshmen. It too presents an annual program in chapel, and May finds these young musicians practicing dutifully for this personal appearance which they eagerly await.

THIS club's past activities are aptly described by its title "Peplin." Its members are the peppiest in the city, and all of their activities seem to have a touch of spice. When it comes to spaghetti, the Hi-Y will vouch for their culinary ability as Hi-Y held a joint spaghetti supper with them early in the year. With the approach of Valentine's Day and its customary hearts and flowers, the gym at the "Y" was the scene of a colorful dance by this Peplin group. Other activities in the past year have been bingo parties, a scavenger hunt, and various sorts of service work. In cooperation with Miss Toohey, the girls distributed clothes to needy families and at Christmas time some lucky family in the Valley received a basket donated by this group. They also contributed to the Welfare Federation. Several of the girls from Peplin who attended the Girl Reserve summer conference at Lake Ariel became quite interested in the newspaper work there. When they returned to school this year, the club as a whole volunteered to start a Girl Reserve newspaper which would include news from all the twenty-one clubs in this vicinity. A great honor came to Peplin with the election of Margaret McGourty as president of Inter-Club Council. In this capacity she has led the combined clubs of seven schools through a most adventurous, enjoyable and highly successful season.

PEPLIN GIRL RESERVES

ALL over the United States there are thousands of boys of high school age who wear the same red triangle of the Hi-Y. Coughlin Hi-Y is but one unit of the huge organization which strives to promote clean living, clean sport, and clean habits. By long study and observation, men have learned that much of later life is influenced by the environment of childhood. With this fact as a basis, the national Hi-Y leaders have planned their program with the aim of providing a pleasant and instructive environment for its members.

Syron. Seventh row: Tanski, Foster, Evans, Morgan, Shiber, T. Jones, Jordan, Lenahan, Saber, Santiwan, Jevitt.

THE club at Coughlin this year visited both Chevrolet and the Blue Ribbon Baking Company plants. They also had a swimming party, several mixed swims, and an informal dance. They heard interesting talks at their meetings. They formed a basketball league when they discovered several members were athletically-inclined. Their dramatists also had a chance to write and direct a play. This varied program clearly shows that Coughlin's Hi-Y has done its part in furthering the aims and standards of the national organization.

STAMP CLUB

STAMP collecting may properly be called the "Hobby of Kings." Many of the monarchs of Europe today possess collections which have been handed down from fathers and grandfathers. Many are ardent collectors themselves and spend much of their spare time in following this hobby. But stamp collecting is one of the few hobbies which is open to everyone. Few people, however, when they receive letters give much thought to the stamps on the envelopes. This is not the case with members of the Stamp Club. To them, a stamp is something to be examined and studied and, possibly, treasured. There are many enthusiasts among them—all eager to increase their knowledge of the postage stamps of the world and to share their information or finds with others. Several times they received free packets of stamps at the club meetings. Twice they checked up on the geographical facts they've acquired: once in a location contest with the Geography Club and once in a quick quiz in a club meeting of their own. To show others what they are missing by not "stamping," club members had a stamp exhibit in the latter part of the year.

VARIETIES

IF "Variety is the spice of life," then the "Varieties" is aptly named, for this show combines just about every known talent into the type of program that remains popular. Musical novelties, dancing, and short plays are among the featured numbers. Usually the first presentation of the year, the "Varieties" sets the ball rolling toward a successful series of entertainments and enjoyable programs.

COMMUNITY WELFARE

If the Queen of Hearts had wandered into Coughlin just before Christmas, she would have mistaken the Community Welfare Pageant for the thief who had stolen her heart-shaped tarts. However, she would have learned that the heart-bearers represented the departments of the Community Welfare for which the pageant was given and that the tableaux showed the gradual development of a humane attitude in mankind through the ages and its evidence in the charitable organizations today.

SOROSIS

WHEN Sorosis opened this, its forty-fourth year as Coughlin's oldest club, it was facing a most difficult problem. In the last several years, interest had lagged, and several times the members thought it best to disband as their brother club, Clio, had done. But with the new group of members coming up this year, interest seemed to revive, and every effort was made to keep it alive. Under the able guidance of Miss Gillespie and Mrs. Cantor, the girls got together and planned a series of interesting programs. At an early meeting, Miss Marion Sturdevant talked on her trip to California. Several weeks later Miss Ritchie reviewed several of the current books which she thought would appeal to high school girls. When everyone started to think of the Christmas season and what it meant and the enjoyment of a real Christmas dinner, Sorosis thought of the many families who would miss this pleasure, so they decided to fill several baskets and send them to needy families in the valley. These were planned and distributed by Miss Sturdevant. In February an entirely new kind of party was held with the Hobby Club. To judge from the reports everyone enjoyed the year's activities and Sorosis has taken on a new lease of life.

TYPING CLUB

THE typing student often hears, "Page 65; double spacing; marginals 10-70; fewer errors; more perfect papers." This may seem like Greek to most, but to him, it is perfectly clear. To supplement this routine instruction in typing classes, Miss Durkin organized a Typing Club in January for the seniors interested in this subject. Typing students who wrote forty words per minute with five or less mistakes in their Thursday fifteen-minute tests were awarded typing certificates and were eligible to join. The purpose of the club was to stimulate a keener interest in typing and to develop a more business-like attitude in attacking daily problems. Interest in this infant commercial organization was aroused by several Gregg Writer typing contests in which the winning key clickers were awarded numerous prizes. Several pins and certificates for proficiency were the rewards. Mr. Dampf, representative of the Woodstock typewriter and office machines, spoke to the club and demonstrated the use of the ediphone. The club also sponsored an exhibit of artistic and business papers as well as an illustrated lecture on the telephone and its importance in the business world. Thus the only organization of the business course in the school has quickly advanced to a position of importance among school clubs.

THE school's activities seem to be unusually fortunate this year in having so many artistically-inclined students to draw upon for assistance in advertising programs. From the beginning of the year when the Varieties first began to be talked of, these future and perhaps famous-to-be artists labored to produce posters which would catch the eye and hold the attention. This they certainly succeeded in doing as the results of the various campaigns proved. Most of this poster work was done by members of the Commercial Art Club. The club is composed of twenty-six boys selected for co-operative and artistic ability. The Thursday Art Club is for girls. These are by no means behind the boys in either talent or enthusiasm although their work did not appear before the school as often. One interesting kind of project they engaged in was the designing and painting of wooden bracelets and buttons. These displayed great care in regard to colors and workmanship. Both groups deserve great credit for their accomplishments.

COOKING CLUB

NOT only do the industrious C. C. C. girls prepare delicacies, but they also strive to build a foundation of enjoyable living by developing interesting personal qualities, social and professional poise, and better home management. In working toward this goal, the club under the guiding hand of Miss Gilchrist, the cooking adviser, has taken part in a year full of activities. After electing officers and initiating new members, this group sponsored a skating party and a lovely tea for the junior and senior girls at which those attending were entertained by a delightful program and served tea and cookies. Tea was poured by Miss Toohey and Miss Dzury. But they did not confine their helpfulness to school affairs alone but extended their scope to brighten the holidays for some older folks. After making luscious Christmas cookies and wrapping them in gay holiday papers the mistresses of the kitchen delivered them to the Old Men's Home. Not satisfied with just providing food, the C. C. C. girls on Christmas Eve joined in singing festive carols under the windows of the Old Men's Home to the enjoyment of their listeners. These girls are going out in the world prepared to please themselves and to delight others by their dainty appetizers and by their charming manners acquired through the days of practice in this club.

"Peter, Peter, Pumpkin Eater,
Had a wife and couldn't keep her,
Put her in a pumpkin shell,
And there he kept her very well."

KEEPING house in a pumpkin must have been somewhat of a novelty for Mrs. Pumpkin Eater when she found herself forced to live there. A round house was sure to offer many headaches. As her stay proved to be definite however, there was not much else to do but settle down and learn from the beginning. Lesson One was in cooking and, of course, the first thing was pumpkin pie. That proved easy however, for did she not live right inside the main ingredient? When she had learned how to cook and keep the house in order, guests began to arrive and were amazed at the progress she had made in such a short time. Little did they know that she had been one of the children of the old woman in the shoe who had joined the Homemakers' Club in high school and that she was putting into practice many of the things which she had learned there. Mr. Pumpkin Eater was really proud of his gracious and poised wife and congratulated himself on such a fine plan as his pumpkin home. Mrs. Pumpkin Eater looked back with fond memories on the skating party and weiner roast they had had her last year at school, for it was at the weiner roast that she had met Mr. Pumpkin Eater. Now here she was, safely settled in her own lovely home still reaping the benefits.

FOR a quarter of a century, G. A. A. has played an important part in Coughlin's social and athletic activities. This year, as formerly, the girls gave a Freshman Hallowe'en Party and a Senior Tea. Margaret Patrician, chosen from their number, reigned as queen in the May Pageant which they sponsored.

BOWLING CLUB

THEY BOWL THEM OVER!

MANY are the strikes that have been chalked up for the members of Coughlin's ace Bowling Club! In fact these lads were so enthusiastic that Mr. Booth found it necessary to divide them into three leagues. After this division had been made, an elimination contest was held to pick the best team. This ended with No. 2, First Division the winners. Finally the best bowlers from the entire club were chosen to compete with outside teams. They acquitted themselves very creditably. However, this group isn't aiming particularly at making records. They have found a healthful sport for relaxation in their leisure hours.

First row (left to right): Maciag, Zych, Ostrosky, Pacciotti, Anthony, Cybler, Lentini, Barnhart, Brown, Durland, Morris, Gabriel, Bachman. Second row: Bohunko, Dale, Carr, Cave, Naessig, Jones, Hoffman, Dysleski, Anthony, Roberts, Blessner, McGraw, Everett. Third row: Weida, Jenkins, Zachar, Powell, Zajkowski, Allen, County, Birbeck, Strony, Delaney, Smarsh, Ashton, McGroarty. ONE bright day "Simple Simon met a pie-man going to the fair." And as Simon had a hearty appetite, he asked for a taste of the delicious pastry. But he was doomed to go without, for he had neglected to save a penny. Many students at Coughlin will be "going to the fair" this year. Pennies will certainly be needed. The Bank Cashiers' Association is composed of people devoted to helping their classmates save their pennies until a bit of distant "pastry" somewhere seems appetizing.

BANK CASHIERS

THE aim of the Bank Cashiers' Association has always been to increase the number of the student body that bank. Ralph DiSanto, 1CA1; James Kane, 1CA2; and Robert McDonald, 4CA1, were the class cashiers this year who were most successful in furthering that aim. Their classes had the highest percentage of depositors. To make the association a unified organization, monthly meetings are held where various speakers talk on banking and subjects relating to banking. Robert Schaller was the head-cashier for the past year.

SCIENCE CLUB

THE mysteries of science are as an open book to the inquisitive members of the Science Club who insist on knowing just why, how, and when every thing does what it does. Motion pictures, reports, and re-broadcasts of the student science clubs of America are the mediums through which this information has come bringing numerous scientific facts vividly to mind and increasing the boys' desire to find answers to many baffling questions which may be encountered in daily life.

First row (left to right): Rosner, Barnhart, Ivans, Jevitt, Wright, Segar, C. Highsmith, J. Gallagher, H. Gallagher, Elco, Zelinski, Hefernan, Tanski. Second row: Baloga, Worobey, Kollar, Bachman, Kline, Barna, Mattern, Wilcox, Karnofsky, Oschypko, Berman, Collins, Ellman. Third row: Heffren, Parks, Dowling, Heim, Carroll, Ashton, Sutton, Fonzo, Shiber, Sergi, Goodstein, Wassil, Krema, McAdara. Fifth row: Cervonka, Lukach, Mapp, Carr, Feher, Pelenczar, Monko, Ott, Blume, Banaszek, Cavan, J. Collins, Madigan. Sixth row: Snyder, E. Snyder, Santiwan, Haughney, Mirmak, Binkoski, Reiser, County, Skapura, Chandler, Toole, Daugert. Seventh row: Jenkins, Flecknoe, Kopich, J. Highsmith, Evans, McDonald, Edwards, Yanchunas, Dyke, Geida, Gallagher, Macekura, Miscavage.

THE Science Club membership is restricted to boys who delve deeply into all branches of natural science. At a recent "Information Please" program, the members of the club showed their wide knowledge of the sciences by answering every question which was asked. The local Science Club is affiliated with the National Students' Science Club of America. Most club programs are excerpts from "The Science Leaflet", the official publication of this nation-wide parent organization.

SENIOR PLAY

THE YOUNG ARTIST
MAKES A HIT

THE CHRIS BEAN MASTERPIECE
FOUND AT LAST

THERE'S ALWAYS A HAPPY ENDING

FROM the ranks of Masquers early in November stepped its ace senior dramatists to take over the "Late Christopher Bean." The production was one with a touch of mystery centering around an artist and his pictures. Several years after the death of the artist, Chris Bean, it was discovered that his works were masterpieces, and then followed the inevitable rush for products of his skill. Figuring quite prominently in the plot was the family maid at the home where Bean had lived and where much of his painting had been done. Quite a surprising climax was reached when it was discovered that the maid was his widow and therefore heir to all his suddenly acquired wealth. This was quite a disappointment to several speculators who had hoped to "get rich quick" by his painting. Members of the cast were: Ruth Clarke, Anthony Ott, Stella Drellich, Marian McLaughlin, Robert Schaller, Anna Homza, William Kane, Philip Roth, and Vincent Segar. The senior play is the high-spot in the lives of the Masquers who are lucky enough to secure parts. In addition to this dramatic activity, many one-act plays are presented at the regular Masquers meetings thus providing entertainment for the audience and giving every member a chance, at least once, to display his acting ability. Very few of the members of Masquers will ever leave Coughlin to continue dramatics as an occupation, but many of them will be interested in the city's dramatic activities.

MASQUERS

Second row: Kinsey, Dunham, Raykowski, Voskovich, Halper, Clarke, Stoneham, Jones, Susa, McKee, Sicherman, Elinski, Conners. Third row: Ungvarsky, Berkowitz, Radziewicz, Yanchunas, Durinski, Drellich, Mirmak, Drugan, Kane, Huey, Rundle, Haughney. Fourth row: Rosner, Trainor, Barnhart, Lukach, Ott, Roth, Reiser, Jenkins, Shiber, Zelinsky, Gildea.

ORIGINATED in 1927, the German Club, or "Deutscher Verein," has proved to be one of Coughlin's most popular clubs. Under the capable leadership of Mr. E. M. Warmkessel, the members meet regularly on alternate Wednesdays. There are more than eighty in this group. With the definite purpose of promoting a better understanding of the literature and customs of Germany as well as the presenting of a splendid background for the language and music of Germany, the organization has flourished since its beginning.

GERMAN CLUB

First row (left to right): Kowalski, Reimensnyder, Halper, Karpinol, Young, Lukach, Kobukowski, Ungvarsky, Homza, Davis, Boler, Brazelle, Brown. Second row: Janick, Ladluboski, Sayman, Mosser, Sefcik, Radzewiecz, Rushton, Remcho, Kollar, Tattersall, Teston, Kocian, Bachman, Goeringer, Boler. Third row: Heiser, Zawatsky, Hapeman, Shebansky, Slukoski, Korn, Gill, Oleniak, Delaney, Repes, Shak, Hoffman, Greeny, Brittingham, Kinsey. Fourth row: Havas, Havanic, Kline, Kruzel, Yaremko, Kormos, Hayduchok, Zaikosky, Mirmak, Brice, McWilliams, Androsko, Golden, Gordon. Fifth row: Turnbaugh, Zelinski, Eustice, Joyce, Dieffenbacher, Hatesky, Niezwicki, Lippa, Olinitz, Worobey, Nirka, Aliesiek, Baloga, Lehet. Sixth row: Williams, Matusak, Sweenbergh, W. Williams, Kopick, Heck, Greenwald, Collmann, Mirola, Collmann, Glasser, Sulat.

THROUGHOUT the year varied programs on topics pertaining to Germany, and the German language are presented. Singing the folk melodies of old Germany is enjoyed by everyone at the bi-monthly meetings. Humorous and very enjoyable games are played wherein a use of the German language is required. At the pinnacle of the club's social activities is the annual gala Christmas Party. These parties, carried out in true Christmas spirit every year, are eagerly awaited. At the party this year, Mr. J. H. Super spoke about Germany and told of the things he saw on his recent trip there; appropriate Christmas music was sung, and games connected with the Christmas spirit played. One of the most interesting innovations of the club was the Amateur Show presented at the meeting on Wednesday, April 26. The next project to be undertaken by the members is a symposium on German composers, such as Beethoven, Wagner, Mendelssohn, Bach, and many others. In this discussion the group will consider the interesting lives as well as the works of these famous musicians.

EVERYONE is familiar with the expression "Parlez-vous français" and "oui, oui." Likewise are they aware of the fact that Coughlin French students are given an opportunity to increase their knowledge of the customs and habits of the people whose language they are studying, and to stimulate intimate feeling with French affairs and activities by membership in the French Club. This is an organization to which every French student should belong. Juniors whose grades are B or above and have an interest in French Club work may join in January. The meeting is called to order in Room 6, Old Building, by the customary "La seance est ouverte." After the business meeting, a short program is usually presented dealing with French life, and soon the room resounds with French songs usually ending with "La Marseillaise." On May 17 initiations were held for the "nouveaux membres," the recently selected junior candidates. Several teachers interested in French were present; a short program was furnished by the older members; French songs were sung; and last, but not least, refreshments were served. The juniors at once accepted an active part in the club and did their share in providing programs for the meetings which always end with: "L'ordre du jour étant épuisé, je propose que la séance soit levée. La séance est levée!" "The business of the day being over, I move that the meeting be adjourned. Meeting is adjourned." En avant, toujours, et bon chance!

A THIEF IN THE NIGHT

CHIRSTMAS at Coughlin means two things: a gaily decorated building and a play. The decorating was done, as in other years, by members of the Biology Club. The ancient miracle play, "The Second Shepherds' Play," was a humorous addition to the story of the shepherds who watched their flocks the night of the Nativity. The cast included: Merrill Faegenburg, Phillip Roth, Thomas Zelinski, Weido Poveroni, Charles Huey, John Malloy, Harold Young, Thomas Swainberg.

First row (left to right): Marko, Kenworthy, Babbe, Edwards, Hurly, Donuhue, Collmann, Sooby, Boyle, Tarnoski, Paddick, Blum, Miss Gillespie. Second row: Ustvon, Rambish, Ridilla, Ladner, Cranston, Birbeck, Drutchal, Saber, Gavin, Henney, Grabko, Corbett, Michael, Musketnuss. Third row: Fustick, Tvorak, Bucknavage, Albert, Mattick, Senuik, Potichko, Kennedy, Roberts, Reilly, Brannigan, Mulhally, Park, Witkowski. Fourth row: Brehl, Symons, Smith, Sudas, McAndrews, Ciesla, Lenahan, McIlroy, Dunningan, Bohac, Soltis, Zuklukiewicz, Weiss, Syron. Fifth row: Boback, Kedro, Sabatini, Roth, Reese, Carr, Evans, Zayots, Rehill, Panza, Yencha, Turnbull, Zapotocki, Peterson. Sixth row: Burt, Mulhern, Olinitz, Hands, Kane, L. MISTRESS MARY "quite contrary" caused a sensation in the Biology Club when she was able to grow "silver bells and cockle shells and pretty maids all in a row." The young plants the members had raised outside of class, and the beautiful tulips in front of school were not the least bit unusual, and this sudden freak of nature came as a surprise. Before this had come to upset their lives, the members of the Biology Club had been learning how to use a microscope so they could see the many weird creatures which inhabited the unseen animal world. The more artistic of the club had also made colorful scrapbooks on nature which were distributed to the children's wards at the Mercy and General hospitals to help them pass the hours more pleasantly.

SENIOR SELECT CHORUS

"Little Tommy Tucker
Sings for his supper,
What shall he eat?
White bread and butter."

LITTLE TOMMY sang so that he could eat but the students in the senior class sing for their own enjoyment and other people's entertainment. A Senior Select Chorus of ninety was chosen by Miss Weiss at the beginning of the year. This organization was founded four years ago.

First row (left to right): McMaster, Stoneham, Bergh, Davies, O'Malley, Highsmith, J. Gallagher, H. Gallagher, Raykoski, Bachman, Tretheway, Jackson, Kistler. Second row: Miss Weiss, Price, Station, Sichermann, Karpinol, Johns, Briskin, Elkins, K. Fisher, Czubeck, Beneski, Drellick, Kruzel, Strange, Mirmak, Baloga. Third row: Foote, MacDonald, Navola, Lynch, Hannon, Phillips, M. Fisher, Nirka, Tonart, Sirkin, Zorzi, Williams, Neuman, Kline, Sorber. Fourth row: Martin, Nicholas, Radziewicz, Pearson, Steligo, Harvey, Brooks, McHale, Chase, Frank, Bednarz, Fedor, Sholivinski, Davis. Fifth row: Zaykoski, Durinski, Patrician, Kelly, Stanton, Baloga, Snyder, Olinitz, Ellman, Dowling, Macekura, Haughney, Dieffenbacher, Mitchell. Sixth row: Powell, Heffernan, Karnofsky, Pendergast, Collmann, Mapp, Stewart, Cerwonka, Burritt, Madigan, Kollar, Zachar, Schaller. Seventh row: Gumienny, Yanchuk, Edwards, Barnhart, Galdun, Kane, Fortune, Malloy, Ott, Radziewicz, Elko, Shilinski, Mirmak, Cavan, Trainor.

THE Senior Select Chorus sang in the Christmas program, and several groups from the club took part in chapel entertainments. The major accomplishment was a cantata, "White Hawk," which was given after practicing every Tuesday in the luncheon periods for several months. This musical presentation was the story of a brave Indian chieftain who through his love for a fair mist maiden overcame his desire for worldly possessions. The choir sang two selections for Commencement. Then the members went out into the world ready to sing for their suppers as Little Tommy Tucker did.

TO "sing a song of sixpence" would be far too cheap for such a successful and progressive organization as the A Cappella Choir. They deserve a million dollars' worth of praise for the work that they have done in the past year. As it is the only musical organization of its kind in the city schools of Wilkes-Barre, it has attracted much attention both in Wilkes-Barre and other parts of the valley. In fact the choir has even journeyed to Scranton to display their ability. Although the choir is composed almost wholly of juniors, it possesses the tone quality of a group of much older and more experienced voices. This could come only from diligent practice. The concert given for the City Teachers' Institute was their first appearance before a public audience and as they gave such a splendid performance, they were invited to sing at Scranton. A party for the members was held in the gymnasium several days after they returned. There they played games, sang, danced, and became much better acquainted. With the approach of Music Week, an invitation was received from G. A. R. to sing at their assembly program. Miss Weiss had no fear of the kind of work they would do and gladly accepted. Even before such a critical audience as one of a rival high school, they stood the test and came out with flying colors. As an A Cappella Choir sings without accompaniment, it is hard to secure a tone which is true and, with many-part work, it becomes very difficult. Much credit is due to this organization for the way in which it has performed.

AVIATION CLUB

FOR centuries man and beast have been jealous of the feathered creatures. When at last the airplane was perfected, it was the birds' turn to be jealous. One of their chief causes of worry has been the Aviation Club, so they have kept spies—pigeons to the unsuspecting—at the school. One day several perched on the window sill outside Mr. Booth's room. They saw boys constructing those strange relatives of theirs. A few days later they saw movies of them being shown. They have cause to be alarmed. The Aviation Club, like aviation itself, is going far.

AN EARLY MORNING GALLOP

THIS enthusiastic group of riders gallops over the countryside every Sunday morning. They can't all ride at the same hour because sufficient horses are not available, but they can all manage an hour sometime during the morning. As a fitting climax to one of these airings, the whole club held a wiener roast to appease the ravenous appetites acquired while on the backs of their steeds.

JOURNAL REPORTERS' ASSOCIATION

THE Journal Reporters' Association is the link binding the pages of the Journal to every class and club of Coughlin. It is absolutely necessary for each reporter to be on his toes every minute of the time to snap up all stray bits of news about his fellow-classmates or club associates. This year the alertness of the members was well shown in every issue which came from the press. Unusual bits of news were submitted frequently as were humorous sayings in and about classes. One of the most interesting meetings acquainted the members with the difficulties of journalism in foreign countries. Miss Zlata Tuhy described her trip abroad and the press situation there. She was able to broaden the reporters' viewpoint considerably and make clear exactly what freedom of the press means. To close a year of work well done, four reporters were chosen as Star Reporters for having excelled in preparation of Journal notes. Competition for this distinction was begun last fall when rules of the contest were announced. Points were based on neatness, regularity of contribution, promptness, and choice of subjects. These Star Reporters included: Senior, Regina Baloga, 4CA2; Junior, Betty Fritzges, 3GC1; Sophomore, Ephrosinia Yaremko, 2C11, and Freshman, Robert Voelker, 1CA3.

As a reward for the four years of hard study in high school, fifteen percent of the seniors may be chosen by Mr. Super and the faculty to be members of the National Honor Society. In some schools a small percentage of the juniors may be added to this select group, but in Coughlin membership in the Junior Ushers is considered sufficient scholastic honor for the juniors. When a student attains the honor of Junior Usher, it is but a stepping stone to the higher honor of the National Honor Society. Announcement is made at the close of the fifth interval, and all grades to that date are included in the averages. The students are selected for membership not only for their high scholastic standing but also for character, leadership, and service to the school. Most of these have held offices in clubs and taken very active part in school life. It is not only in Wilkes-Barre that students eagerly wait to hear the list read at school assembly but in many localities all over the country as well, for this organization has branches in numerous schools throughout the United States. Its members proudly wear the emblem, a keystone-shaped pin inscribed with the words "National Honor Society" over a torch of knowledge. The attainment of the high standard necessary to reach this society should be the indication of preparation for a most successful life. This society is a direct challenge to the younger students of Coughlin High School to prepare their work faithfully and to take an interest in the activities and affairs of the school.

"RED" AND "SUBS" CHEER
THE BOYS TO VICTORY

ONE of the outstanding reasons for Coughlin's success on the gridiron was the blocking which allowed the backs to make those spectacular runs. The photographs above show this more clearly than words. What more proof is needed to convince Wilkes-Barreans that they were privileged to witness the best team ever produced by "the finest coach in the world"—our own "Red" Pendergast?

MANY tales of the result when an irresistible force meets an immovable object have been told, but apparently no one had ever thought of combining the two into one great machine until "Red" Pendergast put his 1938 football team on the field. Everyone knows what resulted when that irresistible backfield and that immovable line functioned against their unfortunate opponents. Team after team fell before the onslaught. Some held the Coughlin powerhouse to fairly low scores and a favored few even succeeded in scoring on the Red and Blue, but all ultimately met the fate of their predecessors—defeat. "Jimmy" Pendergast and "Joe" Cunningham were co-captains of this outstanding eleven. As the scores may indicate, the most outstanding contests were those played against Nanticoke and Kingston. The latter victory was especially welcome since it ended a three-year domination over Coughlin by the old West Side rivals.

ALTHOUGH Coach "Vid" Jones had but few men with varsity experience about whom to build his 1939 team, he nevertheless turned out a quintet capable of winning its share of the games. A glance at the schedule will show how close the majority of the final scores were. Prospects for next year are bright with all five of this season's starting lineup returning to fight for the Red and Blue.

LEISURE TIME SPORTS

ANY girl who is in such a mood that she doesn't feel like sitting down and reading a book, or "sewing a fine seam" should engage in leisure time sports. During the past year, Miss Daley has taught different recreational activities such as bowling, table-tennis, and shuffle board. Recently table-tennis has come into the limelight and is now a widely-known as well as a very popular recreation. The girls have already shown their ability and love of this game by holding a tournament in which forty-two ping-pong fans participated. Bowling and shuffle board are just as exciting and interesting as table-tennis, but in these games a little more strength and action is exerted. Everyone should take advantage of what she has learned about leisure time sports in the past year, by using the acquired knowledge in the summer months.

PREPARING FOR THAT BERMUDA CRUISE

THE basketball tournament in which more than ninety girls participated proved a great success. For the class tournament, the freshman team was divided into four groups; the sophomore and junior teams, into two. At the end of this contest, the winners were the Freshman-White and Junior-White teams. In the intramural tournament, the sophomore and junior teams tied for first place. The girls, displaying the most ability and sportsmanship, were chosen for the Honor Team, the goal of everyone on the class teams.

K EEN and close competition marked the contests among the class volleyball teams as well as among those in the intramural tournament. After the class teams had played a series of games, the teams which had the highest standings were: Freshman-Red, Sophomore-Red, and Junior-Blue teams. In the intramural tournament, the Junior Team came out ahead of the Senior Team by two games, the Sophomore Team by four games, and the Freshman Team by two games. The champion team was composed of the best players.

MR. SUPER'S LETTER

COMMENCEMENT time is approaching for you, Seniors, and with it your separation from each other and from the public schools. A short time ago I was looking at a Breidlin that contained the pictures of many of you taken when you were freshmen in this school. It is not likely that in any other equal length of time you will change as much as you have in these years spent in high school. And these outward changes in appearance and size are only a part of the changes that have occurred in your very beings, for many experiences have come to you, some of them in the books you have read and studied but many more in the contacts you have had both in and out of school.

You smile, perhaps, as you compare yourself today with what you were then, but really it is not a matter for amusement. For at that time you had reached a goal to which you had looked forward throughout your stay in the grade schools, and you had become a high school pupil with the next steps before you clearly marked. Today you have reached another goal, and your future from now on is not so clearly defined. With the knowledge of the changes and development that have come to you in recent years, you feel assured that you are able to step out from this period which you look upon as a preparatory one and meet the issues of a vague future sometimes called "life." But your high school career has been more than a preparation for this life that you will lead. It has been a part of it, and it is likely that you will not turn very far away from the habits and practices, whether good or bad, that you have followed in the past four years.

You should not look upon yourselves as persons whose growth has been completed and whose ultimate development is reached but rather as individuals who, having exhausted the opportunities that the high school offered you in your adolescent period, now are stepping out into the much wider contacts of adult life with their infinitely greater possibilities for growth and development.

We have tried to lay a foundation for full, rounded lives, to train you to learn how to feel at home in the environment in which you will live, and to make you worthy citizens of this great country of ours. And then we hope we have made growth and progress so interesting to you that you will always be striving to advance and to reach the widest field of service possible for you.

May success await you, class of 1939.

John H. Super.

APPRECIATION

THE Breidlin would be incomplete without a word of acknowledgment and appreciation to the many persons who have made the task of editing easier and more pleasant.

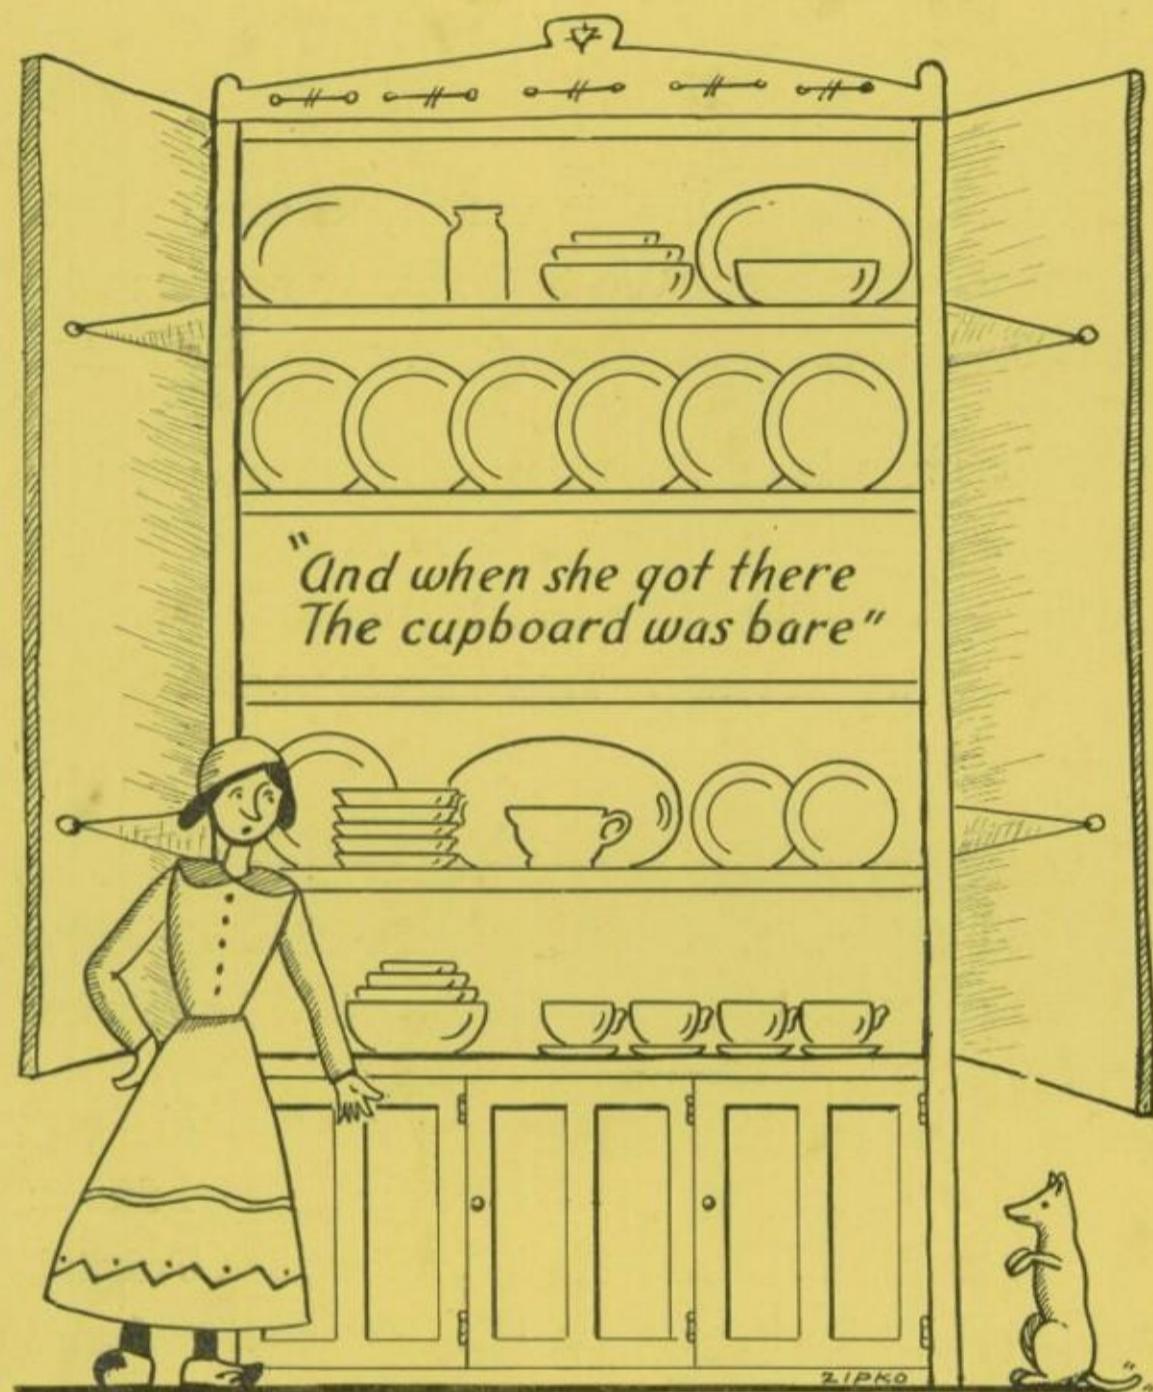

Our loyal advertisers, whose financial assistance helps to lower the cost of the Breidlin, should not be forgotten by the student body. By patronizing these business houses when in need of their products, we can justify their faith in us and assure their continued support.

For the freedom of action allowed the staff, as well as for much-needed advice and guidance, we sincerely thank the faculty advisers: Miss Ruth Austin, Miss Florence Evans, Miss Marion Sturdevant, and Mr. William Connor.

To the following we are also greatly indebted for their kindness: Miss Carolyn Bauman, Miss Edith Davis, Miss Margaret Gabriel, Mr. Joseph Fisher of Service Engravers, Mr. Charles Hausler of Stearns Studio, and Mr. Thomas Collins of Collins Press.

Lastly, we take this opportunity to thank each member of the Board of Publications for the time and effort they have spent to make both the Journal and Breidlin possible.
